LINGENFELTER DEBUTS SIGNATURE EDITION SUPERCHARGED TRUCK LINE

For 2013 Chevy Silverado/GMC Sierra

DECATUR, Ind. – Delivering the quality engineering and tuning prowess the company is known for, Lingenfelter Performance Engineering has released a first-of-its kind Signature Edition supercharged truck line for the Chevrolet Silverado/GMC Sierra pickups. Truck enthusiasts seeking the ultimate in power can choose from either Signature Edition supercharged truck package: a Magnuson TVS 1900 Supercharged 5.3L or 6.2L engine with a 100+ horsepower increase or a 5.3L or 6.2L Edelbrock E Force TVS 2300 intercooled supercharger system with a 100+ horsepower increase. All engine packages include a three year/36,000 mile Lingenfelter warranty on the engine and supercharger.

“We’ve expanded our Signature Edition line of vehicles to include supercharged trucks as a direct response to customer requests,” said Mike Copeland, Vice President and General Manager at Lingenfelter Performance. “Our truck packages offer substantial power improvement and are available in lifted four-wheel drive with an aggressive off-road look or lowered two- and four-wheel drive for performance enthusiasts.”

The Signature Edition Magnuson TVS 1900 Supercharged package provides maximum performance while preserving drivability and reliability. It features an Eaton four-lobe 160 degree twist high helix rotor design and a cast aluminum intake manifold base and fuel rails. The drive system is built with a self-maintained synthetic oil lubrication system requiring no maintenance. It has an air-to-water intercooler inside the intake manifold and a water-to-air supercharger heat exchanger.

The Signature Edition 5.3L Edelbrock E Force TVS 2300 intercooled supercharger package is based on the OEM Eaton supercharger unit. With properly sized fuel injectors and a Lingenfelter 160 degree thermostat, the package provides excellent drivability and highway mileage and is complete with Lingenfelter's professional installation, testing and calibration.

The Lingenfelter Signature Edition 2013 Chevy Silverado sports a CORSA stainless dual rear exhaust and a BDS 6.5 inch lift, with a lifetime warranty. It showcases Bestop PowerBoard running boards and an Undercover LUX color-matched bed cover. With General Grabber AT2 tires, Ultra brand chrome wheels and Lingenfelter 3M graphics with reflective lettering, the vehicle is designed for head-turning curb appeal. Customers also can direct customization of the vehicle to suit their personal tastes.
