

ZEX™ Blackout Nitrous System™ For The 2012 Ford Mustang GT

Memphis, TN – ZEX™ introduces the first nitrous system on the market specifically designed for the new 2012 Ford Mustang GT.

Unlike a universal kit, every piece of the new ZEX™ Blackout Nitrous System™ For The 2012 Ford Mustang GT has been designed specifically for the unique requirements of the Mustang platform. Regardless of whether it's used in street/strip, all out drag race, stock or modified applications, the latest Blackout Nitrous System™ is a fast and easy way to add a significant boost in horsepower to your 2012 Mustang. With a patented electronic TPS switch for reliable system activation at wide-open throttle, perfect for the Mustang's throttle-by-wire system, ZEX™ systems won't affect normal operation but rather will safely provide extra power when it's needed most. Plug-and-play installation can be completed in as little as two hours, with power settings fully adjustable from 75-175 horsepower with the included tuning jets. ZEX™ Blackout Nitrous Systems™ feature black powder-coated bottles, carbon fiber looking hoses and everything needed for installation, including a must-have billet fuel rail adapter for tapping into the Mustang's updated fuel system. Safer and more efficient operation is achieved through electronic activation and the nitrous system's patented Active Fuel Control™, which automatically adjusts fuel delivery with fluctuations in nitrous bottle pressure so that your engine never runs too rich or too lean while spraying.
